

INDIAN CITY

BIO

Indian City is a pop folk group based in Winnipeg Manitoba. Musically their style draws from pop to acoustic to roots rock bringing an entertaining live show. Their dynamic fusion of lyrics, music and personality bring the spirit and pulse of Indigenous story and voice. Vince Fontaine brings his lifelong connection with music to his newest project, Indian City.

Making their debut in 2012, Fontaine was set on bringing razor-sharp talent to a musical collective akin to Toronto-based band, Broken Social Scene and global influences like Carlos Santana's Supernatural. Led by Fontaine on lead guitar, the collective of musicians bring a rich and vibrant backdrop for the chapters of Indigenous culture of North America that he would share with Canada, US and ultimately, the modern global village. Featuring the vocal talent of Jay Bodner, Jeremy Koz, Shannon Mckenney, Don Amero, Rena Semenko, Neewa Mason, Atik Mason on bass, Rich Reid on drums. This contemporary Indigenous group weaves together the complexities of everyday life and past experiences. Indian City add to the growing number of Indigenous artists sharing towards a strong and fair legacy of Indigenous people.

Indian City have released 3 albums to date including Supernation in 2012, Colors in 2015 and Here & Now in 2017.

Indian City performance highlights include Summerfest in Milwaukee, National Museum of the American Indian in New York, Pan AM Games, Canada Day in Ottawa on Parliament Hill, APTN's Ab Day Live, North American Indigenous Games, Stampede Park, Winnipeg Symphony Orchestra, Canada Winter Games, Windspear Centre in Edmonton, Canada CP 150 Cross Country Train, 2018 Indspire Awards and the Thunder Bay Symphony to name a few.

The Manitoban - "WECC was packed with people who applauded Indian City all night and cheered them back for an encore song. The music flowed well and left the crowd wanting more at the end of the night. Indian City is sure to make more music and please more crowds – I would recommend this show to anyone interested in local music by unique artists."

Calgary Folk Club – "Indian City capture the sound and colour of a vibrant Indigenous culture. They were Calgary Folk Club #1 audience choice for a feature performance in 2015."

CBC Manitoba The Scene - "It's one thing to be a part of a Juno award winning rock band. It's another thing to start a new band and realize this grouping has the potential to be as strong if not stronger than the first one."
